Thanks for the offer. FYI, the racks are the same but its a new footing that allows to install and remove and reinstall the racks without damage to the surface.

Hi Michelle,

Please let me know how our office can help expedite that process. If there's anything on our end, we're ready to help. We really want to get those bike racks back up and are very excited about these new racks.

Hi Noah,

I think Julie Amaya may have explained this to Blair last week but the short version is our purchase of the equipment got caught in the City's massive end of the year financial close out and now we have to restart the purchasing process. Julie has already begun this work. I'm am so sorry this is taking so long, thank you for your patience!

Hi Rubina and Michelle,

Hope this finds you well. Any update regarding the reinstall-able bike racks that were supposed to be replaced in front of the Last Bookstore on 5th and Spring? 5th Street has now been rack-less since last December...
